Sees Biased Probe Of CIA's Operation

To the Editor:

The American people apparently are fortunate to have William Raborn as head of the Central Intelligence Agency, notably for his opposition to making concessions to the Soviet, which opposition does not seem to set well with such "liberals" as Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

It is reported that Senator McCarthy has asked the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, J. William Fulbright, to hold hearings on the CIA's impact on foreign policy in an effort to embarrass Mr. Raborn.

WE ARE ALSO fortunate to have Mr. Raborn because of his harmonious relations with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, with whom he is said to work closely and smoothly, and both of whom it is said the Soviet's KGB is out to drive from office.

This alone is a high recommendation.

Now who is this man J. William Fulbright?

He is the man who has indorsed co-existence with the mellowing murderers of the Kremlin and supports the "Consular Convention."

THE LATTER is no more nor less than the State Department's plan to have Soviet consulates with espionage agents enjoying unchallengeable diplomatic immunity in the major cities of the U.S. and to give the Soviet new bases of intelligence operations, over the warnings of J. Edgar Hoover.

I'm afraid I don't foresee an honest, fair, and impartial investigation of Mr. Raborn and the CIA.
